

Michael Nix

Offering Three Concert Programs as full concerts or 1 hour programs:

I. Banjar: The Art of the Modern 7-String Banjo

Michael Nix performs a concert of solo music for the Banjar, a modern seven-string classical banjo of his own design, which combines elements of the five-string banjo and the classical guitar. The first part of the program "From Bach to Bluegrass" explores influences on and music of the classical banjo in traditional banjo tunings. The second part features Nix's compositions and arrangements in various tunings that express the wealth of texture and timbre of the instrument.

"Michael Nix takes the listener along on a new voyage with a completely different musical vessel. Listeners will discover a shimmering versatility." --Ritchie Davis, The Recorder

II. Classical Guitar and Banjar, a Seven-string Classical Banjo

Michael Nix performs a concert of solo music for the Classical Guitar and the Banjar, a modern seven-string classical banjo of his own design. The first part of the program features Nix's compositions and arrangements in a wealth of musical styles for Classical Guitar. The second part "From Bach to Bluegrass" explores music of the classical banjo

"Thank you for presenting such a stunning concert..." Brick Church Series, Old Deerfield, MA

III. From "Banza" to "Banjar", A Lecture-Concert

A history of the banjo and its music from the 1600's to modern times.

Michael Nix presents a short history of the banjo in America in a lecture-concert, featuring three types of historical banjos and the Banjar, a modern seven-string classical banjo of his own design which combines elements of the five-string banjo and the classical guitar.

"What an amazing concert. Your repertoire and skill held us enthralled. Thank you for an extraordinary evening."

–Genevieve Fraser, Village Lyceum Series, First Congregational Parish, Unitarian, Petersham, MA

Michael Nix Biography

Michael Nix performs on Banjar, classical guitar, banjo, lute, and mandolin, throughout the United States and Asia; has recorded for the PBS series "American Experience", several independent documentaries, numerous CD projects; and his compositions are performed internationally. His music has been heard "Weekend Edition", and other NPR programs.

Michael Nix plays on the seven-string Banjar, an instrument he has designed, which combines elements of the classical five-string banjo and the classical guitar. The Banjar's seven high-tension nylon strings sound somewhat like a cross between the banjo and guitar or lute. Nix combines lyrical expression with an insatiable musical curiosity to forge an intriguing performance style incorporating various musical genres and textures drawn from banjo, classical guitar, jazz, blues, and folk. His repertoire includes original compositions, classical, jazz, ragtime, folk music and pieces from the classical banjo and classical guitar canon.

Nix is currently on the New England States Touring Program. He participated in Seegerfest 2014, and other concerts commemorating the life of banjo player Pete Seeger. In 2012 Nix performed at the Surin International Folkore Festival in Thailand.

Nix toured as a member of the Monadnock Classical Guitar Duo, and as a soloist he was on the New Hampshire Touring Program for four years from 1979-1983. From 1977 to 1992 he toured and performed at folk and bluegrass festivals with singer and songwriter Rick Fiske playing 5-string banjo. Throughout the 1980's he was a featured performer for the Connecticut Classical Guitar Society's Andres Segovia outreach program "The Guitar About Town. In 1988, he performed at the Bushnell Hall in Hartford CT, commemorating a 1931 Andres Segovia performance with Madam Emilita Segovia as the honored guest. Nix was member of The Moser/Nix Duo, which formed in 1995, performing music and recording for mandolin and guitar. He founded The NixWorks Ensemble in 1999, a flexible chamber ensemble, to explore multiple creative influences and genre. Nix formed The Pioneer Consort in 2005, with violinist Chris Devine, and cellist Greg Snedeker to play World Chamber Music. He currently performs with Chris Devine as the Devine-Nix Duo.

Michael Nix's concerts have been described as "touching" and "transcendent":

"Michael Nix takes the listener along on a new voyage with a completely different musical vessel. Listeners will discover a shimmering versatility." --Ritchie Davis, The Recorder

"Thank you for presenting such a stunning concert..." Brick Church Series, Old Deerfield, MA

"... breathtakingly beautiful to hear." --Peter Mix, "Acoustic Musician" Magazine
